

Press Release

Nucleus Software partners with A-CCI for Italian market

A-CCI has signed a partnership agreement with Nucleus Software that will allow Nucleus to position itself as a partner for the Italian market of banking and consumer finance software.

Milan, Italy | New Delhi, India | November 16, 2009: Nucleus Software Exports Limited (NSE: NUCLEUS, BSE: 531209), has chosen A-CCI as its partner for the Italian market. The IT Solution division of A-CCI will provide sales and implementation services to Nucleus Software for its products for retail & corporate banking and cash management. The integration between the leading consulting experience in business process management, lean service management of A-CCI and award winning products developed by Nucleus Software, will allow A-CCI IT Solution to support banking customers to streamline processes and improve customer experience.

Nucleus Software's flagship product, FinnOne™ has been ranked amongst World's Best Selling Lending Software Products for three consecutive years by IBS Publishing.

"The collaboration with A-CCI promises to be beneficial to Nucleus Software, as it will help us take state of the art banking technologies to the European markets. Nucleus' passion to create world-class intellectual property for the BFSI segment combined with A-CCI's expertise in business consultancy in the Italian market will ensure a mutually beneficial partnership and help further our offerings and services to our customers. We hope to expand our footprint by leveraging their distribution network", says Niraj Vedwa, President and Head – Global Sales and Marketing, Nucleus Software

"The fact that a leading global software provider like Nucleus Software has signed a partnership with A-CCI is a prestigious recognition of the quality of our consultancy services. Through this partnership, the A-CCI IT Solution Division strengthens its ability to create value for customers in the Italian banking and consumer finance market", says Alessandro Donetti, Managing Partner of A-CCI.
